AUTHOR TALK with

MATTHEW BOKOVY

The San Diego World's Fairs and Southwestern Memory, 1880-1940 traces how the Panama-California Exposition of 1915-16 and the California-Pacific International Exposition of 1935-36 reflected civic conflict over an invented San Diego culture. Bokovoy's work explains the emergence of a myth in which the city embraced and incorporated native peoples, Hispanics, and Anglo settlers to benefit its modern development.
